Town Council

Welcome to Farnham

It gives me great pleasure to offer a very warm welcome to the judges of this year's Farnham in Bloom.

Over the years, the fertile land of Farnham has earned the town something of a green fingered reputation. In the 16th century, Farnham became renowned for growing hops of a particularly good quality. Although many of the hop fields have now been replaced by houses and schools as well as other forms of agriculture, we have continued to see new communities growing from a common interest and desire to preserve, enhance and make the most of Farnham.

I believe that Farnham in Bloom and the opportunities it provides have been a major contributing factor in helping our communities flourish and go from strength to strength. Farnham in Bloom has no barriers – it's open and accessible to all ages and you do not even need a garden to take part!

Being involved in Farnham in Bloom is a positive experience that makes people feel good. This is evidenced by the increasing number of volunteer hours that are donated each year. Our town is blessed with a wide range of organisations and individuals who give their time freely for others and for this, I am thankful.

Farnham in Bloom also gives our young people a chance to blossom. So far this year, I have had the thoroughly enjoyable experience of attending Farnham Town Council's hanging basket sessions for schools. It was a pleasure to help the children to plant their baskets which are now proudly displayed in Central car park.

We are now in the 28th year of Farnham in Bloom and we continue to be inspired by the vision and efforts of the original pioneers. I firmly believe that taking part in Farnham in Bloom makes the town and surrounding villages better places to be and this is something that we will continue to build on for future generations.

I hope you enjoy spending time with us and discovering for yourself what makes Farnham so special.

Councillor David Attfield

Mayor of Farnham

Welcome to Farnham in Bloom 2018

2018 marks the 28 year of Farnham in Bloom. From its inception, Farnham in Bloom was managed by a local volunteer group for 15 years. In 2005 the group retired and the Farnham in Bloom baton was passed to Farnham Town Council. Throughout its tenure, Farnham Town Council has worked alongside an army of volunteers which are supported and co-ordinated by the Farnham in Bloom Community Group.

The Farnham in Bloom team was incredibly proud to win Gold in the Large Town Category of RHS Britain in Bloom and be joint category winner for the first time last year as well as achieving two Gold awards and to be Regional category winners of the Large Town category of the South and South East in Bloom competition in 2017.

During 2018 we have continued to develop and build on our previous successes and we look forward to welcoming you and taking you round our beautiful town.

Farnham In Bloom at a Glance

Since its early beginnings, Farnham in Bloom has relied on voluntary commitment, local sponsorship (financial and in-kind) and support of local authorities and local businesses.

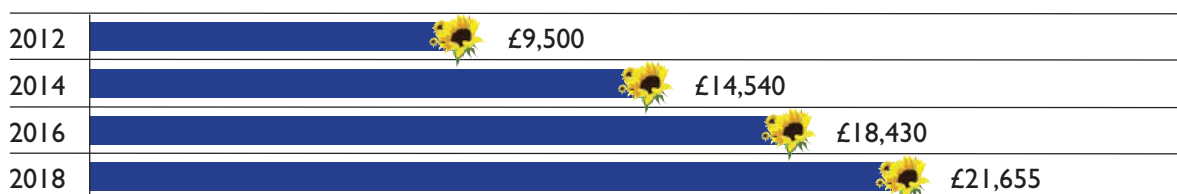

Within these notes is a special centre section devoted to several stand out projects to highlight how Farnham in Bloom meets the criteria for South and South East in Bloom and Britain in Bloom. Being part of this competition has given a focus to the contribution made by all of Farnham's distinct communities in both the Town Centre and Larger Town categories.

Farnham Repair Café

Farnham Repair Café was established in the town in February 2015 by the Centre for Sustainable Design at the University for the Creative Arts (UCA) and local initiative Transition Town Farnham and aided by Farnham Town Council.

The Farnham Repair Café offers a monthly place and space at Farnham's United Reformed Church for Farnham's residents to come and get products fixed by bringing along damaged items in need of restoration, and in turn 'share in the repair'; gain knowledge and divert damaged goods away from land fill.

Electrical and textile-related products have been the most repaired items, but the team of repairers, which is made up of local volunteers and staff from University of Creative Arts, have also worked on bicycles, furniture, baby strollers, and vacuum cleaners to name but a few!

The Saturday morning sessions also look to provide product owners with a greater understanding of how their product works, with an insight into why repairing is a better solution to recycling or binning an item in favour of buying new.

The international Repair Café movement launched in the Netherlands in 2009 and there are 18 Repair Cafés in the UK. The Farnham Repair Café is supported by a steering board and funded through donations and ad-hoc grants.

The Otter Wey Trail

The Otter Wey is an art trail made up of 44 otter models in and around Farnham as part of a fundraising art project supported by the outgoing Mayor of Farnham, Councillor Mike Hodge, Blooming Arts and the Lions Club of Farnham.

Otters were chosen following evidence of their return to the River Wey and to raise awareness of the importance of clean rivers and waterways when encouraging rare species to return to the River Wey. The river is an important spine for Farnham, forming a wildlife corridor through the centre of town, linking important green spaces such as Bishop's Meadow, Gostrey Meadows and Borelli Walk, as well as forming part of Farnham's celebrated industrial heritage, firmly rooted in the creative industries.

The Otter Wey Project has reached all parts of the community, involving local schools, voluntary groups and businesses. The project has provided an opportunity for various groups to come together, and also allowed those taking part to develop their own creative skills and present them to a wide public showcase at venues such as public and historic buildings, local businesses and the local landscape.

Several guided walks of the Trail took place during Farnham Walking Festival and a self-guided leaflet was also produced for people enjoy the trail at their own leisure.

The best Otters will be auctioned at Farnham Castle this July. Money raised from the project will be distributed between Woodlarks and Brightwells Gostrey Centre which are the charities supported by Councillor Mike Hodge during his Mayoral year.

Bloomin' Kids Gardening Workshops

School children make a major contribution towards the success of Farnham in Bloom every year. To get children involved and interested in their environment Farnham Town Council run a number of competitions and activities to involve them.

Over Easter four gardening workshops were held for parents and their children. The aim of the sessions is to make gardening fun and accessible and to encourage the next generation of green fingers. The sessions are led by Farnham Town Council staff and members of the Farnham in Bloom Community Group.

Activities include seed sowing, pricking out and arts and crafts. The children are able to each take a plant home so that they can continue to nurture it. This year, the workshops were enjoyed by over 100 children. Over the autumn school holiday, two bulb planting workshops will also run.

Bloomin' Arts

Farnham in Bloom has inspired the creation of several arts projects that involve the wider community over the last couple of years. This includes an exciting collaboration with 'Blooming Art', a collage competition, now in its fourth year. The competition has previously attracted over 300 entries from the local community, resulting in a three-day exhibition at the Farnham Maltings during July. The theme for this year's competition is 'cycle'. Another large-scale project includes a dance performance by The Dance Movement, a local not for profit dance company in Farnham, called Farnham Blooming. This year's project, funded by a grant from Farnham Town Council, involves 200 children from in and around Farnham working with a professional dancer over an eight week period to create a dance, which they will perform before the judges of Farnham in Bloom and with the Farnham in Bloom float in the Farnham Carnival. This year's dance theme will focus on animals that live on, in or near the River Wey, including otters to tie in with the Otter Wey Trail.

Bloomin' Litter

Farnham Town Council is passionate about keeping litter off streets and keeping Farnham looking the best it can be all year round. In response to a Farnham in Bloom Community Group suggestion, Farnham Town Council has pioneered a new community-led initiative called 'Bloomin' Litter' over the past three years.

The Bloomin' Litter initiative encourages local people to pick an area they would like to help keep litter-free. Throughout the year, the volunteers carry out regular litter picks of their chosen area, which could be close to where they live or a road they regularly walk. The amount of time given from volunteers and the frequency in which they litter pick varies from several times a week, to weekly and others on a more ad hoc basis but at least at a rate of once a month. Farnham Town Council provides all necessary equipment including litter pickers, waste bags, gloves and high visibility jackets to the volunteers and insures the project. To date, over 50 people have signed up to the initiative from all over Farnham, including the villages and rural wards.
