Farnham in 2026

This year will see the biggest shake-up of local councils for over 50 years. Surrey's 11 borough councils and the county council are being replaced by two new unitary authorities. Farnham will form part of West Surrey. You can read more about the changes on page 26.

Closer to home, residents will be aware of the major changes taking place in the town centre. While the roadworks are causing some disruption, the end result will be a far more pedestrian-friendly Farnham.

The project is being led by Surrey County Council and is expected to be completed by the end of this year. In the meantime, please continue to support local businesses and plan your journey into Farnham by visiting www.surreycc.gov.uk/farnhamworks

Farnham is often credited with being a great place to live and one of the reasons for this is because of the difference made by volunteers. Every year, people donate their time and skills to local organisations that support residents, care for our natural spaces, represent businesses and enrich community life. Their work complements the services provided by local councils and make Farnham a highly desirable place to live, work and enjoy free time.

There are so many ways to spend your leisure time in Farnham. From champion sports clubs to shopping or meeting up with old and new friends at the community cafés. There are also lots of ways to occupy your time that do not cost a penny including walks, exploring our craft roots and heritage and great free events in and around Farnham. For families, the new playground at Gostrey Meadow is a great place for children to play, and our events guide offers many more ideas. If you have leisure time to fill, please do consider getting involved in volunteering. Local organisations always need more volunteers, and you will be helping to keep Farnham vibrant and well cared for.

Finally, although we have concentrated on the positives of living in Farnham, we recognise that not everyone is finding life easy at the moment. If you are affected by the ongoing cost of living crisis or facing other challenges, please do find out about the organisations that can help you in this guide or visit our website and use the search facility to locate the many organisations here to support you.

We hope you find this 2026 residents' guide useful. Please do visit our website at www.farnham.gov.uk for lots more information about living in Farnham.

With all good wishes

Share your love of gardening

If you want to stay active, meet new people and make a visible difference in your community, Farnham in Bloom is looking for volunteers and it could be just what you're searching for in 2026.

Many of our volunteers are retired or planning for retirement, and others have recently downsized and no longer have a garden of their own but still enjoy pottering around.

Join a 'Friends of...' group

These friendly volunteer teams help to care for Farnham's parks, open spaces and cemeteries. Tasks include planting bulbs, weeding, pruning, tending flowerbeds, planting trees and encouraging biodiversity. There are currently Friends groups at Gostrey Meadow and the Garden of Remembrance at West Street Cemetery as well as the Badshot Lea Bloomers. There are also plans to create a Friends of Farnham Library Garden.

Be a Bloomin' Friend

Bloomin' Friends help pot on plug plants, create the planters and containers seen in the town centre and villages, make hanging baskets, help with watering and complete small weeding tasks. It's social, rewarding and has a big visual impact.

Help keep Farnham tidy

If you love where you live, litter picking is a simple and flexible way to show pride in your neighbourhood. Many volunteers build it into a weekly walk or organise a monthly tidy-up of a favourite street or green space.

These are just some of the opportunities available. If you'd like to start your own group or transform a grot spot with a planter, spring bulbs, flowers or regular litter picks, Farnham Town Council can help with advice and equipment.

To find out more, email bloom@farnham.gov.uk or visit www.farnham.gov.uk to see the volunteers' calendar of events.

Valued volunteers

Meet Les

Les describes himself as "not much of a gardener", but that hasn't stopped him becoming a valued member of the Badshot Lea Bloomers. He volunteers at least twice a week and can be found helping out at the community garden with 'handy man' tasks, taking part in community clean up days, and setting up and clearing away equipment for the popular Bloomin' Kids' Gardening Workshops. Every Monday, he litter picks a set route around Badshot Lea – efforts that earned him the title of Litter Picker of the Year at the 2025 Farnham in Bloom Awards.

Meet Shirley

As a Bloomin' Friend, Shirley has helped plant thousands of plug plants and has created hundreds of hanging baskets and containers which can be seen throughout Farnham and its villages. She admits that even when she's not officially volunteering, she can't resist plucking out the odd weed she spots in a planter! Shirley volunteers because she loves it – especially the community spirit. She has met a wonderful group of people and says their paths might never have crossed if it weren't for their shared love of gardening.

Bowled over!

By David Gill, Chair of Farnham Sports Council

If you live in Farnham or the surrounding area, you're very fortunate – for a town of our size, we have some of the very best sports and health clubs in the country.

The proverb 'a journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step' is attributed to the Chinese philosopher, Confucius, but it might well apply to those considering taking up a new sport or fitness activity. Taking this crucial first step might just considerably enhance your quality of life.

Thanks to the dedication and quality of the volunteers running local sport, Farnham has many quite outstanding and inclusive community sports clubs and you can find out more information on any of them by linking Farnham to your favoured sport on the internet, or by checking the Farnham Sports Council website at farnhamsportscouncil.org.uk

Farnham is also very well served by some excellent multi-purpose sports, health and fitness clubs. These include Farnham Leisure Centre, the David Lloyd Club, Nuffield Health and the Bourne Club. There are also a number of good quality fitness-specific clubs in the town, and in early 2026, the Hurlands Pickleball and Padel Club will add another valuable club to the town's sporting portfolio.

There's overwhelming evidence for the life-changing benefits of being active, from childhood through to old age. Also, let's not forget the mental health and social interaction benefits involved in sport and physical activity as we join up with family, friends or teammates, or make new friends and share uplifting moments together. Enjoy!

Top sporting tip for 2026 – Lawn Bowls!

It's likely that not many people in Farnham have ever tried their hand at the sport of lawn bowls but it's a notable activity in our area and deeply rooted in our town's heritage.

Farnham Bowling Club, in Bear Lane, is probably our town's oldest sports club, they were established in 1878. To stumble across any one of our local village bowls clubs – whether it be at The Sands, The Bourne or Rowledge or in the adjacent villages – and stand and watch a game for a while is to witness a fundamental and still relatively unchanged way of life.

We probably all know the story of Sir Francis Drake wanting to finish his game of bowls before confronting the Spanish Armada and clearly bowls is one of Britain's oldest sports, played since the Tudor period.

In a fast-changing technological world, the sport is at a crossroads, and our local bowls clubs are keen to welcome new members to a social and sporting activity that is very easy to learn, though perhaps a little trickier to master.

Bowls is a sport for everyone, for all ages, and immensely enjoyable. From late April onwards, if you'd like to give bowls a try, check out the club websites for information and contact details – any of our local clubs will make you feel welcome and lend you all the equipment you need to have a go. It's our top sporting tip for 2026!

For contact details or further information, check out the websites for Farnham Bowling Club, Seale and Sands Bowls Club, Rowledge Bowling Club or Lower Bourne Social Club.

Explore Farnham on foot

Discover Farnham on foot in 2026 and enjoy the town at a slower pace. Whether you're in search of quiet green spaces, scenic countryside, or a new weekend activity, Farnham offers countless walking routes ready to explore.

Self-guided walks

Farnham's self-guided walks remain a favourite way to explore the area at your own pace. All routes are available through the free Discover Farnham app on the App Store and Google Play. Choose from themed trails such as public art, trees, heritage, and industrial history. The interactive map helps you stay on track with estimated walking times, search tools, and multiple map views.

For those who prefer to walk without digital distractions, illustrated printed guides can be collected from the Town Hall or downloaded from www.farnham.gov.uk

The full schedule will be available online ahead of the festival, so you can plan your perfect walking week.

Celebrating 35 years of friendship

2026 marks a very special milestone for Farnham as the town celebrates the 35th anniversary of its twinning partnership with Andernach in Germany. The Deed of Friendship between the two towns was originally signed in Andernach in 1991 and reaffirmed in Farnham in 1992. As part of the anniversary celebrations, a delegation of visitors from Andernach will arrive in June, bringing with them the town's world class orchestra.

On Friday 5 June 2026, the Stadtorchester Andernach will join the internationally acclaimed Farnham Youth Choir for a concert at the Farnham Maltings, from 7-9pm. The evening promises to be an unforgettable celebration of music and friendship. Further activities will take place throughout the visit, providing opportunities for local residents, organisations and community groups to get involved.

About Andernach

Andernach is a beautiful historic town with a population of around 30,000 people. Positioned on the left bank of the Rhine, 13 miles north of Koblenz, it is one of Germany's oldest towns. Founded in 12BC by the Romans, Andernach is known for its medieval architecture, riverside promenades and vibrant cultural life.

Why twinning matters

Farnham's twinning with Andernach offers individuals, clubs, societies and businesses the opportunity to make lasting links with like-minded people in their twin town. The Farnham Andernach Friendship Association promotes cultural exchange and international friendship by encouraging collaboration and shared learning. Through Andernach, Farnham also enjoys links with communities in France, Belgium, Austria, Germany and Israel.

Local twinning relies on community involvement and the 35th anniversary provides the perfect moment for new members to join and help shape the future of twinning in Farnham. Anyone interested in cultural exchange, travel, language, music or international friendship is warmly encouraged to get in touch.

For information about twinning in Farnham contact Nikki Gilbert, Chair of the Farnham Andernach Friendship Association at nikkimgilbert@gmail.com or call 07895 682095.

A wider history of friendship

Farnham's international links extend beyond Germany. In 2025, the town proudly marked 75 years of friendship with Haren in the Netherlands – Farnham's first twin town. The relationship, formed in 1950, symbolised peace and cooperation in the years following the Second World War. Each year, Farnham plants tulips in Haren Garden a quiet and simple tribute, supported by a donation from local resident Hans du Moulins.

Discover art and craft

Craft has long shaped Farnham's distinctive character and is home to makers of all ages and skill levels.

World Craft Town

In 2020, the World Crafts Council named Farnham England's first World Craft Town. This accolade placed Farnham on the global craft map in recognition of its deep craft heritage and welcomed the town into an international network of Craft Cities.

As a World Craft Town, Farnham is committed to supporting artists and makers through a series of residencies. Craftspeople from around the world are invited to apply for the opportunity to spend one month in Farnham creating a piece of work inspired by the area. The first artist in residence was a glass artist from Ireland followed in 2025 by an Italian ceramicist. In 2026, Farnham will welcome a jewellery and metalwork artist. The work created by the artists in residence can be seen on display at the Town Hall in South Street.

Take part

Valuing Farnham's younger people

Supporting children and young people is a key priority for Farnham Town Council. From investing in safe social spaces to funding outreach work and holiday activities, the Council is helping create positive opportunities for the next generation.

In 2025/26, Farnham Town Council allocated over £100,000 specifically to support projects designed for younger residents. This included grants for youth outreach work, support for school holiday programmes, and funding towards the running costs of three important local youth hubs: Hale Community & Youth Centre, 40 Degreez, and The Jubilee Hub.

Partnership working at its best

Farnham Town Council's approach to youth support is intentionally collaborative. Rather than running services directly, the Council works closely with community-based organisations that already have strong relationships with young people and the specialist skills to help them.

The three youth hubs supported by Farnham Town Council each offer something different. They operate in varied settings and have different offerings for most age groups, but they share a core purpose: to provide safe, supportive spaces where young people can spend time, build confidence, learn new skills and enjoy being part of their community.

Hale Community & Youth Centre

Hale Youth Centre offers sessions four nights a week for 7-19 year olds, plus weekly outreach. Programmes include open access, a Girlz Club, a Boys Night In, and a Code Club. A variety of educational, craft, and physical activities, including holiday programmes are also offered.

40 Degreez

Situated close to Farnham town centre, 40 Degreez is known for its long history supporting young people through sport, music, informal education and drop-in sessions. The centre offers a safe space to relax with friends, talk to trained youth workers, or get involved in projects that build confidence and life skills.

The Jubilee Hub

Based at Jubilee Church, The Jubilee Hub hosts The Den and Jabble – lively youth sessions offering games, creative activities, group events and space to socialise. Although based within a church building, activities are non-faith based, inclusive and open to all.

Keeping younger people active and engaged during the holidays

Over the past year, a programme of free school holiday activities ensured that hundreds of young people in Farnham were kept active, engaged, and safe during the holidays. Designed to support children and teens of all ages, particularly those from financially disadvantaged backgrounds, the initiative provided opportunities for fun and learning.

Local organisations were awarded grants totalling £20,000 to run activities ranging from sports and arts to educational workshops. These sessions not only reduce boredom and isolation but help families manage childcare pressures and offer valuable enrichment opportunities.

Investing in the future

Farnham Town Council remains committed to working alongside residents, schools, charities and youth professionals to ensure every young person in Farnham has the chance to thrive.

Younger people's directory

Visit the younger people's directory to find activities and services for younger people.

If you are an organisation that provides services or activities, you can add your details to the directory. Visit www.farnham.gov.uk

Free family fun

The new playground at Gostrey Meadow has been a great success and is in constant use.

The playground was designed to reflect Farnham's heritage and natural features. There's a meandering blue footpath which represents the River Wey, and a multi-tower unit which resembles a mill local to Farnham. Play equipment and facilities that can be accessed by all children have been incorporated into the design.

A strawberry tree and paper bark maple have been planted in the new playground with a katsura, which has heart shaped leaves and smells of toffee apples in the autumn at one of the entrance gates. As well as eventually providing welcome shade, the three semi-mature trees have been chosen for their year-round interest.

Construction of an amenity building which will include new toilets and storage for the equipment which is needed for the many events held at Gostrey Meadow will begin later this year. This second phase will also include more play equipment for pre-schoolers including a sensory Lions' Den and a small water play area.

Connect with nature in local green spaces

In 2026, Farnham Town Council continues to champion biodiversity across the town. By planting native species, protecting wildlife habitats and adopting sustainable gardening practices, we are creating green spaces that are not only vibrant and welcoming, but that actively support a wide range of plants, insects and animals.

We manage a growing number of parks, gardens and open spaces across Farnham and with the onset of local government reorganisation, we are in discussion with Waverley Borough Council regarding the transfer of further sites. Our aim is to create flourishing environments where people and nature thrive together.

A guide to green spaces managed by Farnham Town Council

Gostrey Meadow and River Wey, Union Road

A much-loved green space and riverside location at the heart of Farnham. Easily accessible, it serves as a central venue for cultural activities, heritage events and community gatherings such as the annual duck race and festivals.

Gostrey Meadow was officially opened as a park in 1910 after improvements and donations transformed what had been a neglected area of wasteland. Once part of the Bush Hotel estate, the land fell into disrepair after the estate was broken up but today stands as a key destination for residents and visitors alike.

Batting's Garden

Junction of A287 and The Ridgway – enter through the oak gate

A charming wildlife garden tucked behind a hedgerow at a busy junction, offering a peaceful escape among grasses, wildflowers, birds and insects. Cared for by conservation volunteers, it was presented to the town in 1933 by Walter Batting, a draper and outfitter from Alton who later retired to Great Austins.

Haren Garden

Enter from South Street (east side)

Created to celebrate the friendship between Farnham and its Dutch twin town of Haren, this garden is known for its spectacular tulips – a must-see in spring and early summer. Mature trees and varied shrubs offer shade and interest, while the River Wey provides a gentle backdrop.

The garden also stands as a reminder of Farnham's support for the people of Haren during the Second World War and after the 1953 floods.

Evelyn Borelli Garden of Rest – Falkner Road

A tranquil setting for quiet reflection, enhanced by several pieces of public art. This thoughtfully designed space offers a modern and creative place to walk, pause or sit in peace.

Badshot Lea, Green Lane, Hale and West Street Cemeteries

Alongside their primary role as places of rest, Farnham's cemeteries are important wildlife havens. They provide shelter and food for birds, insects and small mammals, as well as green corridors that help wildlife travel safely through the landscape. If visiting Badshot Lea or West Street Cemetery, look out for the dormice boxes on tree trunks.

The Garden of Reflection – West Street Cemetery

A peaceful corner dedicated to remembering loved ones. A predominantly white planting scheme is complemented by seasonal bulbs, plants and shrubs, while subtle screening provides privacy from neighbouring allotments.

Flying the flag for excellence

Farnham's commitment to biodiversity is reflected in its ever-growing number of Green Flag Awards – a national benchmark for high-quality parks and green spaces that demonstrate excellence in environmental management, biodiversity support and community involvement.

Farnham Town Council has received Green Flag Awards for Hale, Badshot Lea and West Street Cemeteries and Gostrey Meadow.

Discover Farnham's Bee Trail

Follow the self-guided walking trail through green spaces and bee hotspots. Learn about native bees and the plants they love, enjoy fresh air and nature, and collect brass rubbings at each stop. The trail was created by Hive Helpers in partnership with Farnham Town Council. Copies can be downloaded from www.farnham.gov.uk or pick up a copy from the Town Hall.

Greening your garden

By Libby Ralph, Chair, Farnham Biodiversity Partnership

Wildlife and biodiversity are hugely important across all of our green spaces and across the town. Green features and gardens also help cool the environment and filter air pollution. It is great when more and more of you get involved and incorporate wildlife features in your gardens, helping to connect corridors between the town's green spaces. Bee-friendly borders, bird boxes and bug hotels can all help, as can leaving areas of unmown grass in the spring/summer. After a very dry 2025, water may be an issue this year, and we can all help by capturing and using rainwater in our gardens and for washing cars, reducing run-off on our driveways, and even creating ponds and bog gardens. Fruit trees and native hedging plants also contribute to providing homes and food for our wildlife in the town. Every little helps.

All change for local councils

Big changes are afoot in Surrey following one of the biggest shake-ups in local government for more than half a century.

At the end of last year, the government announced that Surrey's county council and 11 district and borough councils will be replaced by two new unitary authorities called East Surrey and West Surrey. In 2028 a strategic mayoral authority is also expected to be created. Farnham will be in the West Surrey unitary authority along with the rest of Waverley and the existing Guildford, Runnymede, Spelthorne, Surrey Heath and Woking boroughs.

The new unitary authorities will be responsible for all the services currently delivered by the boroughs and county council. This includes adult social care, waste collection, planning, children's services, highways, housing and environmental health. See page 35 for the full list of services.

Elections for the new unitary authorities will take place in May 2026. The new unitary authorities will run alongside the existing boroughs and county council until 1 April 2027 when they formally take over responsibilities. At this point, Waverley, Surrey and the other boroughs will cease to exist.

What does this mean for Farnham Town Council

Although town and parish councils were not included in the local government review, the reorganisation provides opportunities for Farnham to acquire assets and services which are important to its community. This will reduce the risk of them being sold by the new West Surrey unitary authority and lost to Farnham people.

Further information about the changes can be found at www.surreycc.gov.uk/council-and-democracy/lgr

Could you be a councillor?

In May 2026, six councillors will be elected to represent the Farnham area in the new West Surrey unitary authority. These councillors will prepare the budget and determine the best structure for West Surrey so it is ready to operate from 1 April 2027.

This is an incredibly exciting time to be involved in local politics and is an opportunity to play a mighty role in shaping West Surrey for the future.

If standing for election appeals to you, here's what to do next:

1. Decide whether to stand. Chat to friends and family if that helps: would they encourage you to stand?
2. Check that you are eligible to stand and decide whether to stand as an independent candidate or for a political party. The Electoral Commission provides guidance about standing as a candidate including information about eligibility to stand.
3. Contact Electoral Services at Waverley Borough Council for a nomination form and return it by the deadline given.
Email electoralservices@waverley.gov.uk.
4. Plan and carry out your campaign.
5. Wait for the result on polling day.

Ensuring Farnham has a voice

West Surrey will represent over 670,000 residents. In preparation for ensuring engagement with local communities is not lost, pilot Neighbourhood Area Committees (including in Farnham) have been tested and are expected to be implemented across the new unitaries. Farnham Town Council has proposed that these need to be more than talking shops and have the ability to meet the needs of local communities directly. For what happens in the pilot see farnhamnac.commonplace.is and give your thoughts. Further updates will appear on farnham.gov.uk
